If you do not know your immigrant ancestor, how many generations back do you know?

The Rich Family Association does not collect genealogical information nor do we have the authority to resolve disputes in the interpretation of research results. We believe that the best way to preserve your family history is to publish in Kinfolk. Ancestor Tables, pedigrees, historical narratives are all welcomed for publication, as well as queries; these will be published as space permits. Current family events - births, deaths, marriages, and other significant milestones can be included.

Members receive our quarterly publication, Kinfolk. Dues are charged on the calendar year.
